He obtained his Master of Science Degree in engineering from Brown University in 2002. From August of 2002 until January of 2005 he was a research assistant in the Department of Mechanical Engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge, MA. During this time he developed and implemented mathematical theories and computational systems for analyzing the mechanical behavior of crystalline metals.

CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ (CFP®) Designation

The Certified Financial Planner™ (CFP®) designation is conferred by the Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. Candidates must have a bachelor's degree (or higher) from an accredited college or university, three years of full-time personal financial planning experience and complete a course of study in financial planning topics. A candidate may be exempt from the course of study requirement if he or she holds a CPA, ChFC, CLU, CFA, Ph.D in business or economics, Doctor of Business Administration, or attorney's license. All candidates must successfully complete the CFP Certification Examination. CFP® practitioners are subject to the CFP Board's ethical standards.

Enrolled Agent (EA) credential

An enrolled agent is a person who has earned the privilege of representing taxpayers before the Internal Revenue Service by either passing a three-part comprehensive IRS test covering individual and business tax returns, or through experience as a former IRS employee. Enrolled agent status is the highest credential the IRS awards. Individuals who obtain this elite status must adhere to ethical standards and complete 72 hours of continuing education courses every three years.

Enrolled agents, like attorneys and certified public accountants (CPAs), have unlimited practice rights. This means they are unrestricted as to which taxpayers they can represent, what types of tax matters they can handle, and which IRS offices they can represent clients before. Learn more about enrolled agents in Treasury Department Circular 230.
